- Popular Diamond Cuts for Engagement Rings –
- Round Cut: Round Cut: It's no surprise that this is the reigning stone. Brides from everywhere flock to round-cut diamonds. Round, brilliant cut diamonds work well as solitaires. They also complement two and three stone settings and even geometric settings for a more retro look. They are great for brides who love the classics.

- Princess Cut: This is another widely popular engagement ring style. Which bride does not want to feel like a princess on her big day? The princess cut's versatile face-up shape completes with square or rectangle sides makes it a prime choice for nearly any ring style. You will get a more modern and geometrical look while still boasting a ton of brilliance.

- Cushion Cut: The exquisite cut is often compared to a pillow, and thanks to its square cut combination with rounded corners it increases the stone's brilliance. They have a less intense sparkle when compared to brilliant-cut diamonds and look great in modern settings.

- Marquise Cut: The marquise cut is known for its regal feel. Its distinctive silhouette is marked by pointed ends and curved sides. It boasts a brilliant sparkle.

- Radiant Cut: This diamond cut is true to its name for capturing light in an enormous way. The shape mimics an emerald cut stone, but the deep, unique cut facets allow for extra sparkle. Brides do appreciate this stone's timeless nature and bespoke spirit.

- Emerald Cut: The emerald cut diamond is often favored for its Art Deco aesthetic. It has more of understated sparkle. The long silhouette and angular lines capture the diamond's clarity, while dramatically catching the light. When set vertically, their shape helps fingers look longer and more slender, perfect for those engagement ring selfies.

- There's no surprise that couples today are choosing diamonds as the best way to celebrate love. With a wide array of options available in the market, you can choose or custom-make your own ring style. However, do not forget to keep your spouse's personality in mind. It's the best way to build your own diamond engagement ring.
